VII. Description of the work program

- (1) To explore the Collatz T map from numerical theoretical setup and go to functional analytic setup for working on τ operators and for demonstrating the connection between the properties of the operator τ and the map T.

- (2) Find other similar maps (besides the Collatz map), formulate a similar operator τ and demonstrate connections for each map and operator τ . Furthermore, to also formulate in terms of operators in the space of analytic functions (Hardy Space).

- (3) Translate the results of Number Theory into the language of Functional analysis. That is, to obtain results (known results) in Number Theory for some maps (besides the Collatz map) that are already proven and formulated for some operators. Also, note the differences of these operators.

- (4) To rewrite conditions and criteria for compactness, Fredholmness, etc. of operators in terms of the integral operator kernel.

(5) Determine if the heuristic connection exists between Fredholmness and Hypercyclicity.

(6) Translate results in Complex Analysis into core terms to generate perform and prove them to the general class of kernels.

(7) To show that the Gohberg-Krein Theorem does not cover a situation that considers operators in Complex Analysis even the classic ones.

(8) Generalize the Gohberg-Krein Theorem.

VIII. List of Activities
